

CONTENTS

Editorial	119
Recent events	121
Research articles:
SARAYUDH BUNYAVEJCHEWIN, PATRICK J. BAKER, JAMES V. LAFRANKIE, AND PETER S. ASHTON, Floristic Composition of a Seasonal Dry Evergreen Forest at Huai Kha Khaeng Wildlife Sanctuary, Western Thailand	125
TYSON R. ROBERTS, Fish Scenes, Symbolism, and Kingship in the Bas-reliefs of Angkor Wat and the Bayon	135
THAWEESAKDI BOONKERD AND PIYAPONG RATCHATA, Pteridophyte Flora of Khun Korn Waterfall Forest Park, Chiang Rai Province, Thailand	195
TYSON R. ROBERTS, Payanak As a Mythical Animal and As the Living Species Regalecus glesne (Oarfish, Regalecidae, Lampridiformes)	211
C. MAKNOI AND P. SIRIRUGSA, New Records of Zingiberaceae from Southern Thailand	225
PAKAWIN DANKITIPAKUL AND SAOWAPA SONTICHAI, Ectoparasitic Mites (Acari, Trombiculidae) on Opiliones (Opiliones, Gagrellidae) in Northern Thailand	239
M. Z. KHAIRONIZAM AND Y. NORMA-RASHID, A New Record of Mudskipper Periophthalmus spilotus (Gobiidae: Oxudercinae) from Selangor Coast, Peninsular Malaysia	245
Notes:
J. F. MAXWELL, Centranthera grandiflora Benth. (Scrophulariaceae)— New Record for the Flora of Thailand	251
Review:
A Field Guide to the Rattans of Lao PDR (by T. D. EVANS, K. SENGDALA, O. V. VIENGKHAM, AND B. THAMMAVONG) reviewed by J. F. Maxwell	253
Cover photo: Bayon fish scene bas-relief. Figure tentitatively identified as Jayavarman VII reclining before a statue of Vishnu. The statue might represent the lost statue of Suravarman II as Vishnu installed in the central tower of Angkor Wat. The lotus and fish in the pond are oriented towards the gaze of the person looking down at them (see article on page 135).

Note: This issue was printed on March 25, 2003.

