Cover photo: The first Thai record of an overwintering Firethroat Calliope pectardens, a male, at Nam Kham Nature Reserve, Chiang Saen District, Chiang Rai Province. Caught and ringed in January 2015, the same individual returned in two further successive winters, each time moulting into breeding plumage before departing for its presumed Chinese breeding grounds. Photograph by Woraphod Bunkhwamdi on 20 April 2015. See article detailing Thailand's second Firethroat record by Philip Round et al., pages 157–164.
